

Weston Foods Human Rights & Human Trafficking Statement

MARCH 2019

Weston Foods, and its subsidiary companies, recognizes the role it plays in ensuring the human rights of its employees and stakeholders are always respected as they are fundamental to human dignity and to ethical business conduct. Consistent with these principles, we also prohibit the use of any form of forced labour or slavery in Weston Foods operations and require all suppliers to adhere to relevant government regulations. We are committed to treating our employees and stakeholders with dignity and respect. As such, we fully endorse the UN Declaration on Human Rights and the International Labour Organization's 1998 declaration on Fundamental Principles and Rights at Work.